Lunar Park

Lunar Park is a mock memoir by American writer Bret Easton Ellis. It was released by Knopf in 2005. It was the first book written by Ellis to use past tense narrative. The title bears no relation to the public amusement locations known as Luna Park. Plot summary. The novel begins with an inflated and parodic but reasonably accurate portrayal of ...

Lunar Park - Wikipedia

Bret Ellis, the narrator of Lunar Park, is a writer whose first novel Less Than Zero catapulted him to international stardom while he was still in college. In the years that followed, he found himself adrift in a world of wealth, drugs, and fame, as well as dealing with the unexpected death of his abusive father.

Lunar Park by Bret Easton Ellis - Goodreads

Lunar Park might tie for Ellis's best novel with Glamorama and American Psycho if it doesn't beat out both of them. It's a great book, reminds me a lot of White Noise in terms of the story's setting and some of the characters.
